RUSSIAN TROOPS TAKE TO HEELS TO ESCAPE TRAP

Wounded Freeze When They Fall, Helsinki Advises Say in Salla Area

AERIAL ATTACKS GO ON

Viborg Visited Again; Many Other Finnish Towns Suffer From Bombs

HELSINKI, Jan. 18—Struggling through temperatures of 54 below zero that froze the wounded where they fell, two Soviet divisions numbering 40,000 men were reported in full flight on the Salla Front today in a desperate effort to break away from encircling Finnish troops.

Military dispatches said the Finns had gained the ascendancy in the Salla sector after days of hard fighting and that the Russians had abandoned their positions in a major retreat which may mark the end of their winter war campaign on the northeastern battle front.

According to wounded Finnish soldiers returning from the scene of action, the Finns have registered important advances during the last two days.

It was indicated that the Finns had completed their encircling maneuver before the Russian command was aware of what was happening. Today, these reports said, the Soviet general staff was making a determined effort to free the two divisions from the trap, but Finnish authorities doubted whether the Reds would be successful.

(An official communiqué issued in Moscow reported "patrol activities in all areas and slight artillery and rifle fire in some sectors." It added that Soviet planes carried out reconnaissance flights and bombed several railway junctions and military objectives, shooting down 11 Finnish planes in aerial combats.)

Men, Arms Captured

In addition to the successful Finnish operations on the Salla Front, Russian forces northeast of Lake Ladoga dispersed a Russian company, killing 70 men, capturing about 100 rifles and destroying two Soviet tanks.

Authorities believed that in the region just north of Lake Ladoga the Russians were attempting to advance along the shores of the lake, but at a great risk of being cut off from their base at Petrozavodsk by a Finnish column pushing forward from Suojaervi towards the East.

The new fighting on the Salla Front was occurring near the point where the Finns two days ago destroyed two Russian companies, which, it was claimed, were "advancing toward the Russian frontier."

This information combined with reports of frantic Soviet efforts to save their artillery on the Salla Front from capture by the Finns was seen as support for the theory

JUDGE DECIDES DAMAGE ACTION FOR DEFENDANT

Following the completion of the plaintiff's testimony, Common Pleas Judge Meeker Terwilliger took the damage suit of Huffer vs. White out of the hands of the jury Wednesday and directed a verdict at the last minute.

Mrs. Margaret Huffer, North Pickaway Street, plaintiff, charged that she was injured when riding in the car of Clyde O. White, Circleville Township, and that he operated the vehicle with "wanton and willful misconduct." Judge Terwilliger said he halted the hearing when he saw the plaintiff had no case and could not prove the charge. Damages claimed by Mrs. Huffer amounted to $10,000.

Mr. White is Mrs. Huffer's brother-in-law.

FIRE HITS TWO CITIES

Ohioans Prepare For Drop Tonight; Readings Fall At Steady Rate

CHICAGO, Jan. 18—A mass of frigid air from the Canadian Northwest settled over most of northern United States today, bringing with it in many sections the coldest weather in several years.

Chicago experienced its most severe cold in four years when the mercury dipped to 13 degrees below zero at 7 a.m. It was one of the coldest days in the city's history. The temperature was not expected to go above five degrees below zero during the day.

The sub-zero blast gripped wide areas of Iowa, Minnesota, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Wisconsin, Kansas, Montana, the Dakotas, Nebraska, Wyoming and much of the East.

At Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., a low of -23 was reported. In Detroit it was six above this morning with continued cold anticipated.

Kansas reported a low of -12. At Kirksville, Mo., the temperature was nine below.

In Ohio, zero temperatures were forecast, and in Toledo, Columbus, Cleveland, Cincinnati and Akron the mercury ranged between six and nine degrees above zero.

At Springfield, Ill., the temperature went to -7; at East Peoria in the same state it was 11 degrees below.

St. Louis reported a temperature of two above.

Through most of the area, light snows piled on previous falls and froze into solid earth-caps.

FEDERALS USING SINGLE WORD IN BROWDER TRIAL

NEW YORK, Jan. 18—The wrong four letter word in the wrong place could conceivably send Earl Browder, Communist party chief in the United States, to prison today for 10 years and cost him $4,000 in addition.

Entering the second day of his trial on a charge of giving false information in obtaining a passport, Browder had the government's assurance—given by U. S. Attorney John T. Cahill to a jury in federal court—that no extraneous issues would be brought into the trial and the only apparent issue left was the four letter word, "none."

Browder filled a blank in an application for a passport with that word and the government's interpretation is that he left himself (Continued on Page Four)

Terrific Explosion Hits London; Toll is Unknown

LONDON, Jan. 18—Two terrific explosions that occurred in a factory on the northern outskirts of London rocked a wide area today and were said to have killed an undetermined number of persons.

While first reports immediately following the blasts stated that there had been some casualties, it was impossible immediately to determine their extent.

One report said that several persons were killed and 50 injured.

The explosions were heard as far as towns in Surrey 25 miles away.

Air raid precautions wardens were kept busy assuring the population that no German air attack had occurred.

St. Louis reported a temperature of two above.

Ambulance squads immediately cordoned the entire area surrounding the factory, which is equipped with its own hospital, and information was withheld for the time being.

Windows Shattered

So great was the force of the explosion that plate glass shop windows were blown out six miles from the scene. The blasts were heard throughout a radius of 20 miles.

Hundreds of Londoners rushed to the streets as windows were shattered and ceilings collapsed in homes and business buildings over a wide area.

Vibrations and concussions were felt several miles away from the factory.

Flames shot high in the air over the factory, bringing fire brigades and ambulances to the scene at top speed.

Ambulance surgeons gave first aid to the injured.

A thick pall of smoke covered the entire region.

Fire brigades were summoned as well as ambulances to aid the injured.

Causes of the explosions was not immediately known, but authorities launched a speedy investigation.

Irish Army Hinted

It was recalled, however, that the outlawed Irish Republican Army has been accused of responsibility for a series of incidents which have terrorized the British Isles in recent months.

Authorities gave no hint at once, however, as to whether they believed the I. R. A., German saboteurs or purely accidental causes were responsible for the explosions.

Goring by Buck Deer Fatal to Ohio Farmer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18—An unusual White House ceremony today solemnized ascension of Michigan's Frank Murphy to the U. S. Supreme Court as President Roosevelt's fifth appointee.

At the same time, New York's Robert H. Jackson took the oath of office as attorney general in the Roosevelt cabinet, succeeding Murphy.

Cabinet officers and their wives, relatives and friends of Murphy and Jackson were invited to the upstairs oval room to watch Supreme Court Justice Stanley Reed administer the oaths.

Since Murphy must take a second oath before actually assuming his place on the bench, today's ceremony served to focus attention on the fact President Roosevelt has now named a clear majority.

Limbach's Talk About Pledged Delegates Hit

Drive To Put State Group In New Term Column Collapses

"NEWS," SAYS VIC

Senator Believed In Favor Of Garner Or Wheeler

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18—Oblique opposition to a third term for President Roosevelt broke out again today in the capitol, while a New Deal drive to put Ohio Democrats in the FDR column collapsed with a party-shaking crash.

The Ohio third term move was given a setback when Senator Vic Donahey, the state's senior statesman, publicly denied he had consented to being a "stalking horse" for the President in the state's Democratic primary. He also denied having given his written consent, as required by Ohio law, to becoming a candidate for the presidential nomination under any circumstances, but added that the matter would "work out in time."

Then both Senator Alva B. Adams of Colorado and Senator Robert R. Reynolds of North Carolina indicated opposition to a third term by blessing other Democrats for the 1940 nomination. Adams said a Garner-Farley ticket—Vice President Farley and Postmaster General Farley—would carry the West, though his favorite for the nomination was Senator James F. Byrnes of South Carolina. Reynolds endorsed Secretary of State Cordell Hull, from the sister state of Tennessee.

"The physician holds no hope for his recovery."

News that Borah was dying quickly spread through the nation's capitol. His senate colleagues were deeply shocked, earlier announcements having given the impression that the senator's condition was not serious.

Mrs. Borah said that only the day before the fall, Dr. Daniels had examined Borah and pronounced him in the best shape since his illness last year.

A diminutive, white-haired woman famed as is her husband—for the independence of her convictions, Mrs. Borah received reporters with complete composure. She spoke slowly but clearly, but it was plain that she was wracked by emotion.

She said that on Tuesday morning the senator had slipped on a bathroom rug and fallen. At first his injury was not believed to be serious, but a cerebral hemorrhage followed during the same day.

This morning she was advised by Dr. Daniels, son of former Secretary of Navy Joseph Daniels, that her husband could not live. It was then that the decision came to make public the senator's condition.

VINSON OFFERS TO SLASH NAVY EXPANSION SUM

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18—Responding to congressional economy demands, Chairman Vinson (D) of the house naval affairs committee today proposed a $500,000,000 cut in his $1,300,000,000 naval expansion bill.

He informed his committee that he would move to eliminate entirely the navy's request for authority to build 40 new destroyers.

At the same time, Vinson revealed that the navy is contemplating construction of 27,500 ton cruisers with 14-inch guns, a new type of naval weapon. The bill would permit building of four such ships.

COUNCIL VOTES CHANGE IN AGE OF FIREFIGHTERS

Persons Of 22 May Qualify

Limit Was 24 Years

EXAMINATION EXPECTED

Police Uniforms, Employees
Of Disposal Plant Cited
In Two Measures

On the recommendation of H. L. Bartholomew, secretary of the Civil Service Commission, an amendment to Ordinance 832 was drawn up by Joe Adkins, city solicitor, to lower age requirements for eligibility for examination for firefighter and passed by the City Council at its meeting Wednesday night.

The previous age regulations prohibited examination before the age of 24 and after the age of 38.

The amendment to the ordinance lowered the first figure to 22. The latter age limit does not apply to members of the force who are taking examinations for advancement in the department.

Examinations Loom

By request of the Civil Service Commission the measure was passed by the council under suspended rules after the first reading since the commission expects to offer examinations for the department early in February.

Two further ordinances were read at the meeting of the council awaiting final disposition at later meetings. One ordinance introduced at the meeting stipulated regulations in regard to the uniforms of the Police Department while the other having its second reading, was to place the employees at the sewage disposal plant under civil service and asked for an increase in the number of employees.

WALNUT YOUTHS PROBATE JUDGES OFFER 'M'LISS' ON FEBRUARY 8 WATCH BUDGETS

Over one hundred years ago there was born a man who was destined to make his mark in the field of American literature. This man was Bret Harte. As a writer of thrilling, wholesome Western stories, he had no equal. He was to the West what Mark Twain was to the Mississippi country. Harte sprung from fame with a tale entitled, "The Luck of Roaring Camp". This was followed by many others with the flavour of the wide-open spaces and eventually some of his works reached the stage in dramatized form. One of the successful plays made from his stories was "Salomey Jane", which had an enormous vogue. But perhaps the longest-lived of any of his dramatized stories was the famous "M'Liss", which toured the entire United States for over three decades. Some of the most famous theatrical stars of a past era have appeared in the title role of this play.

"M'Liss" has been made into a motion picture on several occasions. Years ago, in the days of silent movies, it was one of Mary Pickford's triumphs; and in recent years Anne Shirley portrayed the role in the talkie version. And again, at some date in the near future, it will be filmed with another popular star, for "M'Liss" is a story that will never die. It contains all the elements of popular appeal: laughter, tears and thrills.

Recently Samuel French, of New York City, had a new and up-to-date version of the play prepared for the use of amateur actors: It is this version that the Walnut Rural Youth Association will present on the night of February 8 at the Walnut Township School auditorium.

As the state dug out from a snowfall that in places reached a depth of four inches, more flurries added to hazardous driving conditions, the highway patrol reported. Drivers were urged to proceed with extreme caution, although all roads in the state were reported open.

Slightly cloudy skies with light local snows and colder was the official forecast for today. Friday and Saturday were to be fair and continued cold with the mercury still falling an average of a point an hour, Dayton reported a temperature of three degrees early today.

DERBY
By Mrs. M. C. Edwards

The Derby Ladies Aid will meet Wednesday, January 24, at the home of Mrs. N. J. Wiggins assisted by the January division.

The W. C. M. S. will meet at the home of Mrs. R. S. White Thursday, January 25.

Word was received here last week that Harry Parker of Magnolia had undergone an operation and his leg amputated from effects of an injury several weeks ago. He is the husband of the former Lois Hays of this place. His condition is still considered serious.

M. S. Edwards and wife were Sunday dinner guests of F. D. Edwards and family of Big Plain.

Our farmer's institute passed off very nicely Monday and Tuesday. The following officers were elected for coming year, President, James Creamer, Vice-President, Haldy Winfough, Secretary, Junior McKinley, Treasurer, R. S. White.

COMPANIES ANNEXED

One dispatch from that sector said that a Finnish patrol of 13 men managed to surround two Russian companies and then machine-gunned them to the last man.

Despite the cold, the Russians carried out further aerial activities, bombing several towns and cities including Abo, Viborg and Vilmandstrand, killing several civilians in the latter community.

Ten bombs were dropped on Viborg but they did no appreciable damage.

Finnish planes retaliated by bombing Soviet troop concentrations and it was claimed that six Russian planes were destroyed. Kajana on the Carelian Isthmus also was bombed and Soviet planes attempted to machine-gun civilians without inflicting casualties.

One report stated the city of Hangoe on the Gulf of Finland Coast was almost completely in ruins as a result of recent Russian air raids. The number of casualties was believed to be low, however, since most of the civilian population previously had evacuated the city.

TEST OF SPINE ONLY SURE CURE TO END DRINKING

KANSAS CITY Mo.—The spinal fluid test is the only accurate method of revealing drunkenness in "border line" cases, according to Dr. Ferdinand C. Helwig, president of the Jackson County Medical Society.

The test requires the services of a skilled physician, he told members of the Kansas City Bar Association at a recent meeting.

Tests such as are used by police departments for co-ordination, analysis of breath or saliva and the like are unsatisfactory, Dr. Helwig said.

MURPHY FLAYS 'IMPLICATIONS' OF PROTECTION

Justice Department Chief Hits Rumors That He Protected Two

KELLY AND HAGUE NAMED

New Justice Declares That No Evidence Was Offered Against Mayors

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 — A few hours before he was sworn in as a supreme court justice, Attorney General Frank Murphy today issued a public statement condemning his critics for what he called "insinuations and implications" that the Department of Justice shows favoritism toward some political leaders.

He named names and asserted the department has pursued "a policy of firm and equal enforcement of the laws." Mayor Kelly of Chicago and Mayor Hague of Jersey City, were the names he mentioned. He said no criminal prosecution was instituted against them or other political leaders, because "there is no evidence in the department to warrant such prosecution."

Murphy's statement follows:

"As I leave the office of attorney general of the United States, I feel it is my duty to clear up certain misstatements of fact, and insinuations and implications based on such misstatements, which have today and lately been circulated in a portion of the press."

Suppression Denied

"Such misstatements are to the effect or insinuate that as attorney general, I have, for political purposes suppressed possible proceedings against Mayor Kelly of Chicago, Mayor Hague of Jersey City and other political leaders, and that my successor in office, Robert H. Jackson, is expected to continue the same policy of suppression and inaction, to serve alleged political purposes of the administration."

"Such stories and such statements are not true. I resent them and the implications arising from them."

"Proceedings by grand jury and otherwise, have been pressed against political leaders without regard to their party, their power, or their influence, for the violation of federal laws whenever the department has been able to obtain evidence to justify prosecution. There has been no criminal prosecution of the persons above referred to because there is no evidence in the department to warrant such prosecution."

"The department has no authority to investigate or prosecute any laws, other than federal laws."

"The department has been vigorous in ferreting out violations of federal laws without regard to political implications. There is not the slightest basis to suspect any change in the department's policy of firm and equal enforcement of the laws."

POSTOFFICE EMPLOYEES SELLING DIME BADGES

Employees of the Circleville post office are busy selling March of Dime badges to assist in the drive against infantile paralysis. The office's quota has been fixed at 475 badges at 10 cents each, Postmaster Hulse Hays said.

J. E. Trautman is state chairman of the March of Dime campaign for postal employees. Since there are over 15,000 postal workers in Ohio the sale is expected to be a large one.

SWEDEN GETS MAD

THE Russian government is now protesting against other Scandinavian nations helping Finland with volunteer recruits and military supplies. Anybody can understand how Russia would feel about that. But Americans can appreciate, better perhaps than the Russians can, how the Swedes feel.

The latter are slow to wrath, but at last are mad clear through about the way the Russian giant has been jumping onto Sweden's little neighbor and friend. When a Swede gets mad, it isn't any mere petulance or tantrum. It is something cataclysmic, of which volatile Russians can have little notion, something in the order of a volcano or an earthquake.

From this distant vantage point, Americans can see that situation possibly developing into something for which the Finnish resistance against the Russians was merely a curtain-raiser. Let those rash Russian just press Finland and threaten Sweden a little farther, and the Swedes may be pouring through Finland like an avalanche, determined to drive those pesky Communists back beyond the Ural Mountains.

ARE WE SO DUMB?

ISN'T it unflattering to American intelligence to keep saying that "curtailment of government expenditures" is not likely, or not possible, or not feasible because of great pressure for spending in an election year?

Who is bringing that pressure to bear? Is it the average voter, or special lobbies? If it is all of us, then we certainly are dumb to cry for economy one minute and demand unnecessary favors the next. If it is special groups, then it's time for the rest of us to let Congress know that the good of the whole nation comes before the special and selfish interest.

If the country really needs to tighten its belt and take a drastic dose of combined economy and taxation, why not do it?

POWER OR NOTHING

"WE have either to resign as a great Power and perish as a nation, or win this war," said Dr. Goebbel in a recent pep talk to the German people.

Is such a choice really necessary to any people? Germans need only look around Europe to see that citizens of the so-called minor powers—Switzerland, Holland, Belgium, the Scandinavian countries—have been happier, healthier and better off than those of the great powers. Their troubles now are caused not by their own lack of

'ROUND CIRCLEVILLE . . . Hour by Hour

PAGES from the Diary of an Antiquated Reporter:

Up after a restless night during which dreams of this and that did prove disturbing. Glad it was all over, so did hurry downstairs to stir the fire and bring in the morning prints. Most of us dislike that brief venture into the cold of winter to get the paper and give too little thought to the kid who has braved the frost and snow to deliver it as near on time as may be. We grow soft with the years.

There goes the income tax man and unless you are both prompt and accurate here he will be coming. I'll guarantee that Uncle Sam will build no battleships with his take off me this year. Do wish that he were getting a big cut, for the more he gets the more I would make. It is more pleasant to look at it that way than the more I make the more the government takes. Maybe that's one of those silver linings.

Wonder what progress is being made in investigation of the Savings bank holdup? Saw a federal man there the other day, indicating that the FBI remains on the trail. If I had that money I would be more than willing to return it to get the feds off on another track. Those chaps are really tough.

Chatted with Clark Hunsicker who was heading for his rural feed lots to check on the hog and cattle fattening progress. Wheat looks good in the land and much ground has been turned for spring planting. Hear many unnecessary statements that already we have had more real winter than for all of the last three or four years. Well, this is the time of year for it, isn't it?

There's the story of the man with a mite too much to drink who walked into a mirror in one of the ville's drinking places. Back he staggered, carefully looked over his reflection and then, striking a fighting pose, asked belligerently: "Who you think you're shovin' around, any-way?"

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN,

JACKSON TO TURN ON POWERS

WASHINGTON—Under Robert Houghwout Jackson there will be a very important shift in the crusading activities of the Justice Department.

Murphy concentrated his fire on corrupt politicians. Jackson will train his guns on the powers behind the politicians—business and utility interests.

This does not mean that the "pols" will be neglected. They need not hope for any let-up. Jackson is going after them just as vigorously as Murphy did, and one of the first places on the list to be tackled is boss-ridden Atlantic City.

Behind this shift in emphasis are two factors. The first is that Jackson is less political-minded than Murphy. Jackson is a relative newcomer in politics and has never held an elective office. Murphy has held a number and his thinking is chiefly in political terms.

The second factor is Jackson's strong economic orientation. Like Murphy, he too has a long crusading career but his crusades have been against business powers. As a strippling lawyer just out of school in Jamestown, N. Y., he defended a group of street car strikers when they couldn't get another attorney. A few years later he took up the legal cudgels for the local independent telephone company against the giant A. T. & T. and licked it.

As a 40-year-old Assistant Attorney General he waded into the mighty Aluminum Corporation of America with antitrust charges, and followed this up with a tax evasion suit against the late Andrew W. Mellon, former Secretary of the Treasury and ruler of the aluminum field.

In the last two years, as Solicitor General, Jackson has hung up the greatest record of Supreme Court victories on major economic issues in the history of the tribunal.

ASSOCIATED GAS

Jackson believes that at the root of political corruption are economic interests which fatten off these machines and keep them in power. As Attorney General his basic policy will be to strike at these hidden forces, and you can write it down that there will be plenty of action.

They may not be spectacular, because Jackson dislikes personal publicity, but they will be the kind that hurt. He wasn't called "Jack the giant killer" in Jamestown for nothing. There will be no private conferences with defendants nor talks about compromises.

One of Jackson's first economic offensives will be in the direction of the $800,000,000 Associated Gas and Electric Co., which went into bankruptcy last week when the Securities and Exchange Commission (Continued on Page Ten) world power but by the struggle of other nations for mastery of all.

The "great power" idea is one of the curses of Europe. Until leaders get it out of their systems—we don't believe the common people really care about it—there will be no European federation and no European peace.

Editor's Note: Dr. Clendening has written pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, care of The New York Times, 43rd Street and 34th Avenue. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Rejuvenating Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "The Care of the Eyes," "Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

Answer The brown stain which occurs on the fingers of chronic smokers is not due to nicotine, which is colorless, turning brown only on aging. Any tobacco when chewed or handled will produce a brown liquid. This is an oily substance and easily becomes embedded or rubbed into the skin. I do not know why such staining occurs more often with cigarette smokers than with cigar smokers. I don't think I have ever seen it with cigar smokers. The best way to avoid it is to wash your hands after each cigarette. The use of petroleum or wax pomade is about the only way to prevent it, except by pumice stone.

During my professional career I have gone through one other panic of this kind. In an earlier day I used to be requisitioned to pull the strings of my mother's corsets. My father always predicted that this would bring her to an untimely grave. She died at 83.

I once saw, at autopsy, a real lobulated liver a liver almost cut in half—undoubtedly from the effects of tight lacing. The body was that of a woman of 91 years.

Legless Beauty to Wed Soon

Author, Playwright Voices Appeal for Polio Victims

By Vicki Baum
Widely Known Author and Playwright

PACIFIC PALISADES, Cal., Jan. 18 — Not too many years ago, when I first came to the United States, I was hardly conscious of the existence of infantile paralysis. True, I had seen those upon whom the disease had left its mark — apparently healthy men and women in wheel-chairs, children with metal braces supporting shrunken and twisted limbs — but I had thought of them as victims of unfortunate accidents. Then, through the information spread by the President's Birthday Parties, there came an awakening to the dangers of the dread and mysterious disease, of the scourge which periodically reached out for young and old, rich and poor, strong and weak, my neighbor's children and my own.

When a local epidemic of infantile paralysis occurred, I, like other mothers, made an effort to protect my children. And in that effort I learned how much good had already been done — the quicker recognition of the disease, the treatments by exercise and massage, the experiments for the purpose of prevention — but I also learned how pitifully weak we still were; how much remained to be learned, to be discovered, to be tried out.

This year, more than ever, I count myself lucky and privileged to help in a cause like the fight on infantile paralysis, conducted through the aid and example of the President. In other parts of the world people are taxed to the breaking point, are forced to give up everything; yet they cannot determine to what uses their wealth shall be put. It is expended in the creation of more perfect, more fiendish machines of destruction, in killing more people more efficiently.

But we, in this country, have the incredible fortune to be able to send our dimes marching to the White House, and to say: "These dimes shall not build a torpedo, but an iron lung; these dimes shall not pay a soldier, but a nurse; these dimes shall not construct bombs, but a hospital; these dimes shall not kill a man, but let a child live!" And when we have helped to the best of our ability, we can be content that we have also struck a blow for our ideals of freedom and humanity; by having made possible health and happiness for a human being, we have won the only victory that is worthwhile and lasting.

BERGER HOSPITAL'S REPORT FOR 1939 SHOWS LOWEST DEFICIT

DEFICIENCY OF
ONLY $1,075.48
LISTED IN YEAR

Safety Director Praises
Superintendent For Efficiency

MONEY PAST DUE CITED

Need For Maternity Ward
Claimed As Births For Years Increase

The lowest deficit in the operation of the Berger Hospital in any year since its opening was reported for 1939 by Safety Director Karl Herrmann at the meeting of the City Council Wednesday night.

A remarkable cut of $2,995 brought the deficit figure for the last year to $1,075.48. Increases were noted in all the departments of the hospital and an extension of the hospital's services.

"The reduction of the deficit was due to better collection for services and an increase in the number of days care rendered by the hospital," Safety Director Herrmann stated.

Superintendent Praised

"The increased efficiency with which Superintendent Blanche Stair operated the institution showed itself in the financial report," he continued. "If the hospital could collect $2,281 in accounts receivable for 1939 and $4,555 for the years prior to 1939, the hospital could show figures in black ink on the books."

"We believe, though, that this is a remarkable record for a municipally owned hospital," he added.

The increase in the number of births from 81 in 1938 to 108 in 1939 is indicative of the need for the expansion of the maternity ward," Safety Director Herrmann concluded.

Comparative figures for 1938 and 1939 respectively are as follows: patients admitted, 487 in 1938, 668 in 1939; treated, 604, 827; operations, 123, 164; days care, 3,827, 4,960.

Deficits for past years are 1932, $5,812; 1933, $4,410; 1934, $4,362; 1935, $4,613; 1936, $5,033; 1937, $4,747; 1938, $4,070; 1939, $1,075.

FIRE IN OVERHEATED
FLUE CAUSES DAMAGE

Damage ranging from $15 to $25 was reported by Fire Chief Talmer Wise after firemen extinguished the blaze at the home of Benny Renick, 205 East Logan Street, Wednesday night.

The fire, resulting from an overheated flue, was soon under control when the trucks arrived in answer to the call at 10:40 p. m.

Queer Little Sign At Restaurant Has Meaning

They are funny little symbols that don't seem to say anything, but they must mean something, otherwise H. E. Betz wouldn't have made a sign of them and put them over the counter in his restaurant at Court and Main Streets.

"Hieroglyphics," genial Mr. Betz answered to a puzzled look. "They were found in the inner chamber of the master tomb in Egypt. We made letters out of the symbols and put them together in that form."

Nearly 2,000 persons during the last year have asked him what they mean, Mr. Betz said.

"I used to offer a free meal to anyone who could figure it out. A couple of the boys did and now that it has circulated pretty well I have had to withdraw the offer," he laughed. "They'd eat me out of business if I didn't."

Yes, he paid off to those who did get the key and the solution. What the symbols mean? Didn't we tell you?

"We Thank You For Your Patronage."

Washington Merry-Go- Round

sion refused to permit officials to tap the till for a dividend payment.

The group ruling the A. G. & E. roost filed the bankruptcy petition in a federal court in the little city of Utica in upstate New York. This court has had no experience in handling such immense trustee-ship. A. G. & E. investors, backed by SEC and the Justice Department, are demanding that the case be brought to Manhattan, where the chief offices of the corporation are located and where there are experienced judges.

It's an inner Administration secret, but Jackson dug into the A. G. & E. situation before he took over the reins at Attorney General, and some of his aides are urging that certain criminal proceedings be launched in the not distant future.

Note—Legal adviser of A. G. & E. executives is Jackson's former superior, ex-Attorney General Homer Cummings.

POLITICAL-GO-ROUND

You don't hear anything about him, but behind the scenes Frank O. Lowden, former Governor of Illinois and during the 1920's the Midwest's candidate for the presidency, is very active in the GOP campaign picture. Middle West leaders are beating a path to his door to discuss the various aspirants, and to get aid and advice on the now active movement to organize a bloc for united action at the convention. Dr. Francis Townsend is bent on forcing Congressmen to undergo another show of hands on his old-age pension plan before election time. He is planning to have one of his House followers introduce a discharge petition in order to compel a roll-call vote on his bill. . . . Another prominent clergyman who has joined the opposition to continuing the Dies committee is Rev. Walton E. Cole, of Toledo, O., dynamic director of the Unitarian Fellowship for Social Justice.

Yes, he paid off to those who did get the key and the solution. What the symbols mean? Didn't we tell you?

"We Thank You For Your Patronage."

LARRUPIN' LOU

One of the most familiar "pressure boys" on Capitol Hill is poly-poly, apple-cheeked Louis B. Ward, Father Coughlin's Washington generalissimo. Also, he is one of the most mysterious.

Last year when he was actively lobbying for the Coughlin-backed "cost of production" farm bill, Ward vigorously denied he had any connection with the radio priest. Ward's story was that he was for Coughlin's bill, but wasn't working for him.

Congressional veterans who have watched Ward's operations for a number of years were skeptical. But he was very emphatic. "I am not a representative of Father Coughlin," he insisted, "nor am I on his payroll."

When this session opened, one of the earliest lobby birds on the scene was Ward. Breezy as ever and sporting a big white cowboy hat, he was on hand again pumping hard for the Coughlin farm measure. But this time it will be difficult for him to deny any Royal Oak connection, for on the masthead of Coughlin's weekly now appears this interesting item of information: "Editorial Director, Louis B. Ward."

Note—Since his appearance in the breath-taking sombra, Ward has been nicknamed in the congressional cloakrooms, "Larrupin' Lou".

The election came at an organization meeting of the new board of directors chosen Wednesday evening by stockholders when 25 persons gathered at the club.

Other officers include Clark Will, vice president and A. L. Wilder, secretary-treasurer. Four new trustees were named including Lawrence J. Johnson and Tom Renick to succeed Walter Kindler, resigned, and John W. Eshelman, whose term expired, and Tom Brunner and C. T. Gilmore to succeed themselves. Holdover trustees are Mr. Will, Mr. Wilder, Mr. E. Reichelderfer, T. O. Gilliland and Dr. Phillips.

The meeting was confined to reports of committees and routine business.

FALCON'S

Everything in the way of chick supplies will be coming to Circleville when Croman's Chick store opens Saturday, January 20 at 161 West Main Street.

We'll have everything that a chick or chick breeder needs except the chicks," Stanley Croman said. "But we'll take chick orders for our hatchery and supply needs that way."

Since the hatchery is well out of the city, the store is being opened for the greater convenience of Croman's customers.

"There will be feeds and feeders and all other necessary equipment for chicks at the store," Mr. Croman added. "Better be on hand for the opening because it's going to be a real day."
